US LLC Referrals

A US limited liability company for founders anywhere: formation, EIN and registered agent, with tax filing on the higher tiers.

Basic	$150.00

Short post

Best for a general audience: leads with the problem, not the product.

Most founders I talk to want a company in Dubai or the US, then stall on the paperwork.

I've been recommending GenZone. They handle the formation end to end (licence, visas, bank account intro) and they tell you what it actually costs before you commit.

Personal story

Higher engagement. Replace the first line with your own experience.

[Say what happened to you here: the quote you got, the month you lost, the thing nobody explained.]

That's why I point people at GenZone now. Clear pricing, a real person on WhatsApp, and they set up companies in both Dubai and the US, so you can compare properly instead of guessing.

Common questions

When does a referral become a commission?

When the person you referred pays for their formation. Signing up is not enough: the commission accrues against their first paid order, which is why the tracking table shows a stage for every referral rather than just the ones that earned.

How long does my link stay attached to someone?

Indefinitely. Once someone arrives through your link they stay attached to you. There is no window to beat, so a person you introduced months ago still counts when they decide to go ahead.

When do I get paid?

Commissions are approved first, then batched into a payout by the GenZone team. The Payouts page shows what is approved and waiting, and anything already being processed.

What happens if a client refunds?

An unpaid commission is reversed. If it was already paid out to you, it stays paid and is settled against future earnings rather than clawed back from your account.

Can I refer myself or my own company?

No. Self-referral is blocked automatically, and the referral will not attribute.
